SCORES OVER A POOR LOT

JACK ATKIN'S BROTHER GRADUATES FROM MAIDEN CLASS AT JUAREZ.

Ladies' Day Sees Big Crowd at Mexican Course—Jockey Small's Overconfidence Almost Costs W. G. Yanke a Purse.

El Paso, Tex., December 1.—This morning was cloudy, with a light sprinkling of rain, but before the horses went to the post the sun came out bright and clear, making it pleasant for the big crowd that visited the Juarez track. It was the second occasion since the opening of the present meeting that the ladies were guests of the association and they were out in large numbers. Two favorites, three second choices and a long shot accounted for the card.

Fred Drew, the winner of the opening dash at the long price of 30 to 1, is a brother to Barney Schelber's great horse, Jack Atkin. This horse raced around Kentucky, but failed to show anything. Today he sprinted into the lead among a cheap lot and won handily.

Rosiris and Amohalko each won their second victory of the meeting this afternoon. Jockey D. Stirling won with Amohalko and Sir Duke. The latter was heavily backed by the Texas contingent.

W. G. Yanke sent an odds-on winner to the post in Billy Joe. Jockey Small came mighty close to losing the race through overconfidence, when he began to take his mount up opposite the paddock when he had made good head-on. Stolen Ants finished with a whirlwind rush and Small just managed to get his horse going again in time to save the purse.

J. Umensetter arrived today from Louisville with sixteen in his car, being the property of other owners. He turned out Lady Panchita and Justice Gabel at Louisville.

The application of E. Denny for a jockey's license is being held up by the stewards, as the boy was involved in some trouble here in previous seasons.

OPENING DAY OF LEXINGTON SALE MARKED BY LARGE ATTENDANCE AND GOOD DEMAND FOR DESIRABLE OFFERINGS

Lexington, Ky., December 1.—The Kentucky Sales Company's auction of thoroughbred horses today was well attended. Though the offerings, generally speaking, were of poor quality as to individuality, the demand for anything desirable was good, but only the traders were willing to bid on the nondescripts, of which there were more than a few. The best looking horse offered was Irving H. Wheatcroft's imported stallion Brummel, a six-year-old son of Desmond and Beauty's daughter, by Gallinule, but he was not sold. J. O. Keene bid $3,500 for him and this was raised to $4,000 by Walter O. Parmer. There was no advance and the good looking English horse was knocked down at that figure. After the sale it was made known by Mr. Wheatcroft that Mr. Parmer was bidding for him and that he may decide to stand the horse here this winter for public service. The highest price of the day was $1,425 for H. T. Oxnard's stallion, Golden Maxim, which was knocked down to Thomas Murphy, of Louisville. Price Headley paid $1,950 for Lady Paramount, a five-year-old daughter of Lady Languish, which was sold to E. R. Bradley for $550. August Belmont paid $25,000 for Lady Languish (by St. Simon—Lady Reel when she was a yearling. Captain W. F. Presgrave of Baltimore, and Godfrey Preece, of New York, were liberal buyers. The aggregate of the sale was $16,425 for seventy-six head, the average being $216. The summary follows:

EUROPEAN WAR DEVELOPMENTS.

That the great battle between the Austro-German and Russian armies in Russian Poland has become of prime moment, eclipsing in importance and intensity the struggle in France and Belgium, is the consensus of opinion of military men of all the belligerent powers. Germany for the time being has turned her greatest efforts against the Russians. With the Russian forces again advancing and threatening to cut off the German invading forces, the Kaiser has called large bodies of first line troops from the western theater of war. For several days dispatches from Holland have reported heavy movements of troops from Belgium. Dispatches from Berlin intimate that Emperor William has turned his attention almost entirely to the Russian situation and has gone to the headquarters of Field Marshal von Hindenburg on the eastern frontier. Official communications from Petrograd and Berlin make no claims of any marked success. These reports indicate that the fighting continues briskly and that both sides have had minor local successes. Petrograd reports the Germans in retreat, fighting desperately and losing enormously. Berlin asserts that the Russian advance has been checked by German counter attacks and that the time is ripe for a resumption of active operations against the Russians which temporarily were hindered by the advance of the Russian reinforcements. It is added that further south the Austrians are co-operating with the Germans. Petrograd advices say that first line German troops are now opposing a portion of the Russian army in Poland. The arrival of German reinforcements and the strengthening of the corps of mere youths and second and third line troops by the first fighting forces, is held to be responsible for the delay in settling the issue in Poland. It is admitted that the German forces are putting up a desperate resistance in the vicinity of Lodz. The Germans fought their way out of the vise in which they were caught south of Lodz at the point of the bayonet in the face of terrific machine gun and rifle fire.

The following official communication was issued from Russian general headquarters: "Stubborn engagements continue in the direction of Lodz. An attempt by the Germans to advance in the region of Rzeszow has been repulsed with great losses to the Germans. The Russian troops, after a fight lasting ten days, captured on Nov. 28 the Austrian position which protected the passes in the Carpathians, extending about thirty-three miles from Konezna, which is situated north of Bartfeld, as far as Szuzko, situated south of Mezo Laborcz. The Russians in this district captured cannons, machine guns, and many prisoners. During the first half of November we captured in all 50,000 Austro-Hungarian soldiers and 600 officers. In East Prussia minor engagements continue."

Berlin advices are to the effect that latest reports from Poland show that the Germans have resumed the execution of their plan to encompass the Russian right flank and force it back on the center, while cutting off its communication with Warsaw. The carrying out of this plan, which began with the Russian defeat at Lipno and Plock, was hindered lately by the arrival of Russian reinforcements and the Germans for the moment were thrown on the defensive. Now, after repulsing a number of attacks they appear to be moving forward toward Lodz. The German movements in this region have not been hindered in the last few days.

The French official communication given out in Paris says that Monday the enemy showed considerable activity north of Arras. In Belgium there was a lively exchange of artillery, but no infantry attack. The text of the communication follows: "In Belgium there was a spirited artillery fire during the day of Nov. 30, but no attack was made by the German infantry. The enemy continued to show considerable activity north of Arras. In the Argonne the fighting continued, but without bringing any change in the situation. In the Woerwe district and in the Vosges there is nothing to report."

A Christiania dispatch says that England has demanded from Norway, for use as a naval base, the city and harbor of Christiansand, on the southern coast of Norway, such use to continue only during the war. This demand has been refused by the Norwegian Government, and preparations are being made to defend its neutrality. Troops have been sent to Christiansand from all parts of Norway, and the defenses of the city are being strengthened.

The following official announcement was given out in Berlin: "In northern Poland, south of the Vistula, our war booty was increased still further as a result of the successes announced Monday. The number of prisoners taken by us has been increased by about 9,500 men, and we have taken nineteen gun and numerous ammunition carts fell into our hands."

The monarchs of three of the great European powers are now at the front. Emperor William has arrived at Insterburg, East Prussia, close to the scene of heavy fighting during the last few days, while the invading Russians, Emperor Nicholas departed from Petrograd yesterday for the scene of action. King George is making his first visit to the battle line in France.

A Copenhagen dispatch says that the German fleet is becoming more active in the Baltic. Scandinavian and Russian dispatches indicate preparations for striking a blow at Russian ports. There is a great concentration of German warships along the Baltic coast and a withdrawal of warships from Kiel to strengthen the Baltic squadron.

Maj. Stedman writes from Calais to the London Times that a typhoid epidemic is threatened in Belgium and that if it is left to develop it will quickly sweep the remaining Belgian troops from the field and will carry with it a large part of the civil population of western Flanders and northeast France. Twenty to thirty cases are arriving at Calais daily.

Violent fighting was in progress yesterday along the Yser canal, according to a telegram from Sluis. The roaring of heavy guns was heard all day and houses as far away as Sluis were shaken. Inhabitants of all villages within one hour's march of the Yser battle front have been sent away.

The Danish steamer Mary of Ebelerg was sunk by a mine in the North Sea Sunday. The crew of four men were on two boats, one of which was picked up by the steamer Juno and landed at Grimsby. The other boat, containing the Mary's chief officer and six men, is missing.

President Wilson said that, as far as he knew, Henry Van Dyke, minister to the Netherlands, who will call at the white house today, does not bring any peace message from the queen of Holland. He added he did not believe Mr. Van Dyke's visit had special significance.

Lemberg reports that the energetic Russian advance is persistently pushing back the Austrians into Cracow. Information reaching Lemberg is to the effect that the Austrians are evacuating position after position, with large losses.

Official reports have been received at Pretoria of successful skirmishes with rebels at Edenville and Bothaville. Several of the rebels were killed and 127 were captured. Large numbers have surrendered.

The Petrograd correspondent of the London Post says 150 naval guns have recently been sent to Danzig for the two dreadnoughts, two dreadnought cruisers and other warships under construction there.

A dispatch from the north of France says that King George arrived there Monday after an extremely rough passage. The king was received by the prince of Wales and paid a visit to the hospitals.

It is reported that eight additional railway tracks have been laid between Berlin and Cologne. The enormous capacity of this system renders it the most wonderful strategical railway in the world.

The Swedish steamer Fridland, which sailed from New York Oct. 28 for Copenhagen and arrived at Kirkwall, Scotland, Nov. 10, has been taken into Shields as a prize.

Telegraphing from Amsterdam, the correspondent of the Central News says the German force before Dixmude has begun a general retirement.

Count von Moltke, says a Berlin dispatch, has recovered his health and is returning to the front.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY.

Dispatches received at Washington from American Consul Silliman in Mexico City reported the arrival of General Zapata there Sunday. The general at once restored the tram car properties confiscated by the constitutionalists to the owning corporation and restored property of an American named Bill, which also had been taken. The killing of four Spaniards on the entry of the Zapata forces was also reported. Zapata has conferred with the Spanish minister, and it is said, gave assurances that full protection will be accorded to Spaniards. General Angeles also arrived Sunday with the advance guard of Villa's army and later Zapata left the city for Puebla. General Zapata has appointed Camilo Arriaga as his diplomatic agent to the United States.

A dispatch from Mexico City via El Paso says that General Villa has entered the Mexican capital at the head of about 25,000 troops. He remains in the suburbs and will not enter the main part of the city until the arrival of Provisional President Gutierrez. General Villa issued the following statement: "My only mission is to restore order in Mexico and not to take personal revenge on any one. I promise that order will be restored at once. I am acting as the subordinate of Provisional President Gutierrez and the national convention. The provisional president is now the supreme power in Mexico and I am merely acting as field commander of the armies. All foreigners and foreign property will be protected."

A telegram from General Villa's first secretary, Luis Aguilar Benavides, at Tula, said: "Tonight the city of Pachuca, where Gen. Pablo Gonzales, Jacinto Trevino and other constitutionalist chiefs, with their respective brigades, had taken refuge, was taken. In the assault no more than three brigades of our forces, forming the vanguard, took part. They obtained as trophies of war all the Carranza trains, a large number of cannon and automobiles and articles which had been looted from the city of Mexico. A large quantity of provisions also was abandoned." Pachuca is the capital of Hidalgo state.

Rear-Admiral Alfred T. Mahan, retired, naval expert, died at Washington yesterday. Burial will be at Quogue, L. I., the admiral's old home. Admiral Mahan was born at West Point, N. Y., September 27, 1840, and was graduated from the Annapolis naval academy in 1859. He rose through all the grades up to captain and was retired at his own request in 1895 as a rear admiral. He served in the navy forty years, was a member of Congress for one term and wrote many authoritative books on naval subjects.

With the possible exception of the Astor estate, John G. Wendell, who has just died of paralysis in California, was reputed to own more real estate on Broadway, New York, than any other person. Mr. Wendell inherited the property. The Wendell fortune, estimated at upwards of $50,000,000, accrued from investments in New York's real estate, and it was one of Wendell's policies never to sell any land.

President Wilson went over his forthcoming annual address to congress, with the cabinet yesterday. It is short and deals with the legislative program, already known in general terms—the conservation bills, the bill for a government owned merchant marine, the Philippine bill and the regular appropriation measures. It does not urge the immigration bill.

Efforts to find the floating object resembling a mine which Captain Davies of the steamship Etouan reported having passed west of Fire Island light have thus far been fruitless. It was pointed out in marine circles that a whistling buoy, if battered by the waves, would resemble the object seen by the officers of the Etouan.

A majority of the Supreme court joined in an opinion that the Oklahoma "Jim Crow" law providing for the segregation of the races, and the chair car accommodations only to the white race was unconstitutional, but they did not so decree because of imperfections in the petition.

Dispatches from Berlin by way of Amsterdam say that the export and re-export from Germany of rubber, firewood, metal, photographic lenses, certain kinds of phosphates, glass for snow spectacles, centralite and soda are forbidden.

The national assembly of Panama has ratified the new Panama Canal zone boundary line. This gives the United States control of the harbors of Colon and Ancon, as well as many other valuable concessions in relation to the canal.

Ambassador Jusserand of France has lodged an informal protest with the treasury department against the new regulations for invoices and declarations of exporters shipping goods to the United States.

Final tabulation of official returns shows that the bill to abolish capital punishment in Oregon has been carried by a majority of 157. The affirmative vote on the measure was 100,552, negative 100,395.

In seventeen states of the union and one province of Canada, 111 persons were killed and 162 persons more or less seriously wounded in hunting accidents during the season of 1914.

A trade balance of approximately $70,000,000 in favor of the United States will be shown by the November export figures, according to an estimate by Secretary Redfield.

Lucius Tuttle, former president of the Boston and Maine railroad, died at his home in Boston. Death was due to angina pectoris. He was born at Hartford, Conn., in 1846.

Prospects for modification in the near future of the Australian embargo on wool exports so as to permit shipments to the United States are said to be bright.

A Tokio dispatch reports a serious mine disaster on Hokkaido, the northernmost of the main islands of Japan. It is reported that 457 miners are dead.

Parcel post business has been resumed with Austria-Hungary and Germany, the postoffice department at Washington announced.

J. Borden Harriman, retired New York banker, died yesterday after an illness of several months. He was eighty years old.
